The project requires to be on a server and connected to the database which can be imported into a database management system using the file Database.sql.